XVII. Additional Information

- Academic administration (past): The job includes usual curricular administration, faculty matters (including Asian faculty development), accreditation preparations and others. Detailed information is available upon request.
- Journal publications (past and present): This involves the initial planning of the journals, academic conferences to secure the supply of contributions, design for the journal format, drawing of policies and guidelines, editorial flowchart, the adoption of the style sheet, actual editing (including copy-editing, proofreading), coordination with printers and retailers, promotion, and others. Detailed information is available upon request.
- Organizing International Academic Bodies and Networks: Previous experience includes the formation of Asian Pentecostal Society and the International Forum for Pentecostal Studies. The current involvement ranges from the organization of the Scholar’s Consultations of the Empowered21, the formation of interest groups in the American Society of Missiology and the Society for Pentecostal Studies. The formation and management of such bodies and networks entails the networking of key representatives, planning and holding meetings, the publication of the proceedings, and others.
- Institutional Leadership (past): The director’s responsibility (at OCMS) includes the provision of spiritual, administrative and financial leadership for the institution over the academic, administrative staff as well as the students, while representing the institution to the mission organizations, academic establishments (such as theological associations, societies, and universities) and others. The responsibility also includes board relationship and fundraising.
- Research Tutorship (present): Responsibility includes lectures, mentoring of graduate and post-graduate studies, supervision of theses/dissertations, and the examination of theses/dissertations. Also included in research and publication of academic pieces.
- Leadership in Publishing Programs (past & present): Executive Director of Spirit-Empowered Research of Oral Roberts University and Director of Regnum Books International Directs and manages the editorial, production (outsourced), promotional and marketing operation of the publisher. This involves fundraising, leadership over the editorial team, and the management of partner publisher relationship.

XIX. Shorter CV (Descriptive)

Wonsuk Ma (Ph.D., Fuller) is a Korean Pentecostal scholar in Old Testament studies by training, but also in studies of Pentecostalism, Mission, and Global Christianity through continuing research. After serving as the Dean of the College of Theology and Ministry (2018-2023), he currently serves as Distinguished Professor of Global Christianity and Executive Director of the Center for Spirit-Empowered Research at Oral Roberts University, Tulsa, Oklahoma, United States of America. He also serves as the Co-chair of the Global Network of Spirit-empowered Scholars of Empowered21.

During his service as a missionary to the Philippines (1979-2006), he engaged in various ministries, including evangelism and church planting among mountain tribal groups and theological education at Asia Pacific Theological Seminary, Baguio City. In addition to his teaching in Old Testament and Pentecostal Studies, he served in various administrative responsibilities, including Vice President for Academic Affairs. During this period, he established the Asian Pentecostal Society and served as Founding President (1998-2000). He also founded two journals: the Asian Journal of Pentecostal Studies (also serving as Co-editor, 1998-2006) and the Journal of Asian Mission (also serving as Founding Editor, 1999-2001).

He also participated in various international mission and ecumenical functions, including the Reformed and Pentecostal (Theological) Dialogue (1997-2005), Edinburgh 2010, Lausanne meetings, and various ecumenical conferences, such as the World Council of Churches and the Global Christian Forum. He also participated in networks for theological education, including the Global Forum of Theological Educators.

From 2006 to 2016, he served as Executive Director of the Oxford Centre for Mission Studies, Oxford, United Kingdom. He also served as David Yonggi Cho Research Tutor of Global Christianity and directed Regnum Books International, which has published, among others, the 35-volume Regnum Edinburgh Centenary Series.

His publication includes Until the Spirit Comes: The Spirit of God in the Book of Isaiah (T&T Clark, 1999), (with Julie C. Ma) Mission in the Spirit: Towards a Pentecostal/Charismatic Missiology (Regnum Books, 2010), and Mission in the Spirit: Formation, Theology and Praxis (Regnum, 2023). Also, he has twenty (co-)edited titles. He has published numerous studies in academic journals, chapters in books, and entries to dictionaries and encyclopedias. His current research interest includes the Spirit of God in the OT; Global Christianity and Mission; and Modern Pentecostalism in Contexts.
